This represents only the basics of finding secondary literature. There are many other, more specialized resources.

- A good way to find such things is to use the "Type of Literature" search. By doing a keyword subject search in a library catalog on types of literature such as:
catalogs criticism and interpretation bibliography
indexes periodicals sources

you can exploit the fact that these categories are standardized across US library catalogs, and locate relevant or specialized resources.

For example, to find published bibliographies on a writer, do a subject keyword search on author's last name and the word bibliography. This is especially useful at Hopkins, as bibliographies are often in Libraries Service Center (LSC) Park and cannot be found by browsing the stacks. The search: garcia marquez bibliography retrieves 3 titles.

A subject search on latin america periodicals indexes will retrieve 7 important titles. Try latin american periodicals as a keyword search too.

- You may have noticed certain call numbers that are particularly important. Browsing PJ 1006, either in the stacks, or even better, in the online catalog, will turn up some interesting things. Likewise, Z 2680 – 2690 is a place you should be familiar with.
- By reading the introductions and prefaces to the older printed indexes, you will find other bibliographies and indexes mentioned. Follow these leads where possible.
- There are many published guides to research in Spanish literature. Here are a few. These are especially useful in Spanish and Latin American literature, as there are many, many published indexes and bibliographies. You can locate guides with a subject keyword search on:
reference books, spanish, bibliography, philology, handbooks, manuals

Guide to reference works for the study of the Spanish language and literature and Spanish American literature. Hensley Woodbridge. General Reference Z 2695 .A2 W66 1997
Guide de bibliographie hispanique. E. Arnaud. Libraries Service Center (LSC) Park Z 2681 .A75

A sourcebook for hispanic literature and language. D.W. Bleznick. General Reference Z 2695 .A2 .B55 1995 (1970 edition in Libraries Service Center (LSC) Park)

Manual de investigación literaria : guía bibliográfica para el estudio de la literatura española. Pablo Jauralde Pou. D Level PJ 1006.5 .J38 1981

Spanish, Catalan, and Galician literary authors of the twentieth century : an annotated guide to bibliographies. David S. Zubatsky. Libraries Service Center (LSC) Park PH 1911 .Z99 Z83 1992

David W. Foster has written several bibliographies of literature of individual Latin American countries (Mexico, Peru, Brazil, Puerto Rico...), as well as many research guides to Spanish literature. Look him up by author in the Libraries' Catalog.

- Finally, there are many published guides to literary research in general. Find them as well with a subject keyword search on:

Literature, research, methodology, bibliography, library

Or a title keyword search on literary research.

The art of literary research. Richard D. Altick and John J. Fenstermaker. D level PO 33 .A4 1993.
