

Law Notes

NEW FOR YOU AT EISENHOWER LIBRARY!

- Scan documents and save or email them with the scanner in the Government Publications/Maps/Law Library on A-Level.
- Print wirelessly from your laptop in the library. See www.jhu.edu/printing/ to learn how.
- Buy highlighters, post-its, CD-Rs, pens, and other supplies from the vending machine in the M-Level copy room.
- The south end of A-Level is now an open group study area (open tables, cell phones allowed).

FLUSH WITH IDEAS?

Send your ideas for Law Notes topics to asklib@jhu.edu. If your idea or question is used, we'll send you a Café Q gift card.

Law Notes is an occasional publication of Research Services & Collections, Sheridan Libraries, Johns Hopkins University.

EXTRA! Read All About It Online With PressDisplay

With the latest addition to our wide selection of online and print newspapers, MSEL now offers online access to full color, full page newspapers from around the world via PressDisplay. Now you can browse any of over 300 papers online or search across all titles and the 60-day backfile.

You can browse categories such as Top Stories, Business, the World in Pictures, and easily find other articles on topics related to the article you're reading. You can print page images, translate articles into other languages (this appears to be machine translation, so the results are a bit strange), post links to your personal blog, even listen to an audio version of an article (Tip: this is a great feature if you're studying a foreign language).

Find PressDisplay in the newspapers section of our website or go directly to <http://library.pressdisplay.com> (for off-campus access, you'll first need to install the JHSecure client on your computer).

PressDisplay includes newspapers from more than 60 countries in over 35 languages.

If We Have It, We'll Send It To You. If We Don't Have It, We'll Get It.

Two popular library services that we want you to know about are Interlibrary Loan, which lets you borrow books and obtain copies of articles from other libraries, and Eisenhower Express, a service for Homewood-based faculty, senior staff, graduate students and persons with disabilities that provides desktop or office delivery of material owned by the Milton S. Eisenhower Library.

Now it's even easier to submit and track your requests with both services. Go to <http://ils.library.jhu.edu/> to learn more.